VOL. VI. NO. 45 GREENSBORO, N. C., FRIDAY, MARCH 23 1900 Price Five Cents

THE FIRST CHAPTERS OF ROBERT HARDY'S SEVEN DAYS WILL APPEAR IN THE TELEGRAM SOON. DON'T FAIL TO GET THEM.

The Delineator

Each twelve months offers the well dressed woman of the country a wonderful library of ideas in woman's dress. It is also full of practical home ideas that will aid the woman who needs to make a dollar go as far as possible. The constant aim of the editors is to have the delineator suit itself in its various departments to every range of purse.

No dress idea is inserted except after a discussion between artists and experts in each line. It will prove interesting to the thoughtful readers of the Delineator thus to learn of the scrupulizing care that is expended in the selection of the material to be used. While it is being prepared there is a discussion over each paragraph throughout its pages. For instance, eight revisions before being printed. This thoroughness of detail has been now proving its thoroughness of detail has been now proving its merit to the women of the land for over twenty-seven years. What is the result?

The Delineator is found in five hundred thousand homes each month. It is woman's indispensable magazine. Single copies for sale and subscriptions taken by

NOT BY HYPNOTIC POWER

BUT BY THE PRAYERS OF TWENTY-FOUR MEN ONE NIGHT

That Is Why, Says Mr. LaLecheur, $112,000 Were Raised—Addresses at the Christian Alliance.

Prepared for the Telegram.

To attempt to report the addresses delivered in the Friends' church yesterday afternoon and night by Mrs. Reeves and Mr. LeLacheur would be mockery. Mrs. Reeves' address was a simple, unpretentious statement of personal experience, which brought, as one of the audiencesaid, the living God before our eyes, rather than the speaker. Mr. LeLacheur spoke on missions. He mentioned the awakening interest in the subject. "Some say that the church is losing its power. Well, God did not empower the church to be a self-congratulatory society, but to evangelize the world, and when she disobeys she loses her power. If you want power at home you must obey God and give the gospel to the entire world."

He presented the condition of the religious world in a way that would startle us were it not for our poor comprehension. China, that if superimposed would cover the United States, Mexico, the Gulf, and extend a few hundred miles into the Pacific ocean, with more than one-fourth of the population of the earth, was given brief attention. One million of people die every month in China. If we had the same death rate in these United States there would not be one inhabitant in this land in seven years' time.

He made mention of the humble beginning of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, and reminded us that if it be not of God it will come to naught, but it be of God none can withstand it.

A few years ago the christian world was startled by a small convention in New York raising $112,000 for missions in one day. The newspapers of the country were trying to account for it by hypnotic or mesmeric power. But the secret was that the twenty-four members of the incorporated board spent the preceding night in prayer, each in his own room apart. One member of that board estimated on paper that they would need $100,000, held the paper up before the Lord and expected to get that amount. The hundred thousand were pledged at the morning meeting and they stopped satisfied. But Mr. Moody, now in glory, had noticed from the platform some who wrote pledges but did not have time to give them in; so another opportunity was given in the afternoon, and the Lord added $12,000 more than they had asked or thought.

"S. me people, instead of praying to God, pray to an oyster bank, 'O, oyster bank, give money to our church.' No man can pray who has not a conscious need. We say 'Give us this day our daily bread,' when we have the larder filled with supplies for a month, and God cannot give us our daily bread. But when the larder is empty and we make that prayer God can answer it. One place you can always find God: where you need Him. The three Hebrew children lost nothing in the fiery furnace but what did not belong to them. The fire rid them of the strings that belonged to the enemy, but did not even curl their hair."

Daniel in the den of lions, and Paul and Silas in prison, were also presented in a most realistic and practical way, showing that man can find God where he needs Him. We are unable to give any idea whatever of the strength and truth of the address, much less the character and personality of the speaker, and only regret that all Greensboro didn't hear him. After the convention closes tonight there will be some in this city who will wish they had attended, and they will not be able to put the blame on the paily papers.

Mr. Funk, Mr. Simpson and Mrs. Reeves left last night for Laurens, S. C., where they will hold the next convention Mr LeLacheur leaves tonight for Birmingham, Ala., where he will occupy the First Methodist church next Sunday. Rev. A. B. Simpson and S. C. Todd arrived this morning from Roanake. Mr. Simpson, who is one of the first pulpit orators of the country because of endorsement from on high, will speak tonight in the Friends church.

The sermon at the Friends church this morning by Rev. A. B. Simpson was a spiritual feast, thoroughly appreciated by those who heard it. The text was from the twelvth chapter of Hebrews, first fourteen verses, more particularly the first part of the second verse, "Looking unto Jesus the Author and Finisher of our faith."

At the close of the service and old lady who is deaf inquired for the man that could heal her. Some of them tried to tell her that she was mistaken, and they had no man that could heal her Then Mr. Todd stated to those who remained, and showed no inclination to go, that there are no "faith healers" in the Alliance, but that the Alliance people believe and teach that if one will believe the Lord, the Lord will heal him in answer to prayer as recorded in James' Epistle, 5:13-16. Mr. Le Lacheur then expounded that Scripture, showing that it prescribed that the sick one call for the elders of the church, thus evidencing his faith by taking the initiative He also gave testimony to the Lord healing him of consumption when four doctors had given him up to die Since that time more than a dozen years ago, he has been working hard continuously. He certainly doesn't look now like a man dying of consumption.

Rev. A. B. Simpson will preach the closing sermon of the convention tonight beginning at eight o'clock. The song service will begin at half past seven.

BRYAN POINTS THE WAY.

THE NEBRASKA PLATFORM IS GENERALLY ACCEPTED.

The Only Feature Criticised Is That Relating to the Referendem—Democrats Talk On It.

Washington Post, 21st.

The platform of the Nebraska democrats, as published in the Post yesterday was read with great interest by the democratic leaders in the senate. It was everwhere accepted as sounding the keynote of the democratic campaign, in view of the fact that it was framed either personally by Mr. Bryan or with his knowledge and approval. One point in the platform, the initiative and referendum, alone created criticism.

The feature, which has long been a favorite theme of the populists, excited the especial condemnation of conservative democrats like ex-Secretary Hoke Smith and ex-Governor Campbell The former was positive that any declaration in the Nebraska state platform which followed populism would be resented by the democrats of the south and east, and he stated during the day that he proposed to confer with Mr. Gorman to see what could be done to prevent the democrats from risking defeat by adopting populistic doctrines. Ex-Governor Campbell was also outspoken. "The democratic party can never be successful" said he, "until it can carry some of the northern or middle western states. I believe that under existing conditions, if we had a good and thorough organization in New York, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, and Indiana, we could go into the democratic national convention and see that the right kind of a man was nominated to carry these states. Such a platform as was adopted in Nebraska yesterday, with a candidate who indorses such a platform, seriously endangers our chances of success. We would like to win, but the task is made a difficult one when we adopt populistic ideas."

CHAIRMAN JONES VIEWS.

Senator Jones, chairman of the democratic national committee, on the other hand, approved the Nebraska platform. "Its various declarations," he said, "seem to me to be in thorough harmony with the democratic position, although I had not seen the platform until I read it in the Post this morning. Certainly we are all agreed upon the reaffirmation of the Chicago platform, upon the condemnation of trusts, in our opposition to imperialism, and in the belief that the constitution follows the flag. The initiative and referendum is something new in a democratic platform, I admit, but I am not prepared to say that it is an unwise innovation. I would not, of course, advocate the reference of all minor matters of legislation to the people, but on all great questions it seems to me that the judgment of the people might well be appealed to and accepted. As a general rule, no man is afraid of submitting a question to popular will if he believes that he is in the right."

Omitting this initative and referendum, the Nebraska platform is generally accepted as a good basis for the utterance of the party in national convention. Senator Tillman said yesterday that this feature would never be adopted by the party, an opinion in which Senator Bacon and Senator Clay, of Georgia, concurred. Other democratic senators spoke in the same strain, and it is quite likely that the declarations which Mr. Bryan's convention uttered in Nebraska will find their echo at Kansas City next July.

CONFERENCE OR MORALITY.

A Number of Men Organize to Help in the Betterment of Mecklenburg.

Correspondence of The Telegram.

Charlotte, March 23—A new enterprise for Charlotte was organized here yesterday by Messrs. J. F. Wallworth, James Wallworth and Joseph Wallworth, of Philadelphia. The new concern will be known as the Charlotte Waste company with a capital stock of $50,000.

The company will erect a mill for the purpose of manufacturing and handling cotton mill waste. The machinery for the new plant has been ordered and work will begin soon on the factory.

The prominent men, members of the different city churches have arranged here for the holding of a one week's conference next week for the purpose of uplifting and bettering in a general way the morals of the county. The meetings will be held at night and will be addressed by home and outside speakers of prominence.

By special invitation Hon. B. R. Lacy addressed the white supremacy club of Mecklenburg last night speaking at length on the great campaign now just opening.

Biting winds are undoubtedly the ones that come in the teeth of the storm.

Editor Frank W. Elliott, of the Troy (Kansas) Times was shot from ambush and painfully wounded by an unknown man yesterday.

PUBLIC LIBRARY FOR HIGH POINT.

Township Committee to be Held the 31st—Personal.

Correspondence of the Telegram.

High Point, March 23—Dr. D. A. Stanton arrived home yesterday from a trip to Baltimore—R. L. Vernon, of the Southern, was here yesterday enroute to Pinehurst—J. H. Millikan was a city visitor yesterday—Miss Venetia Smith, the milliner, will have her opening next Thursday and Friday, March 29th and 30th—Frank J. Fortier, of Hagerstown, Md., is here with the family of his father-in-law, C. A. Hammer—John Archer, colored, charged with selling liquor, was convicted yesterday, and in default of bond was sent to jail. This makes the third time within the past few months that he has been convicted for this offense—The joint democratic primaries of High Point township will be held at the Anchor warehouse on Saturday afternoon, March 31st at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of electing delegates to the county convention, whith meets in Greensboro April 7th—W. H. Ragan went to Raleigh yesterday to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the A. & M. College, of which he is a member—A meeting was held in the rooms of the Business Men's Association last night with a view to getting up a public library and reading room for High Point. A committee was appointed and if the proper interest is taken by the people the matter will assume definite shape. We have repeatedly mentioned in the Telegram the importance of such an enterprise, especially for the good of the youth of our town, and are glad to know that the matter has been brought before the people—H. A. Moffit has gone north to purchase a stock of spring and summer goods.

SOME SUGGESTIONS.

They Come From One Who Wishes Some Improvements in the City.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

Our wells ought to be cleaned out, so as to get good, healthy drinking water for the spring and summer.

How is it that there is so many bad streets in the centre of the city? Why not fix them up in good shape? Would it not pay the property owners on Davie street to fix up their lots and get good rent for them? On South Elm street on the other side of the railroad, the owners of property have built good business houses and are getting good rents and they are a credit to the city, while the old dalapidated houses on some parts of Davie street, right in the centre of the city, are no credit and are an eye-sore to the city while they pay poor rent. Besides the vacant lots or ground does not return the taxes to their owners, a large income from property that could be improved and would bring a handsome rennt.

Why not bridge the railroad crossings so as to make crossing for pedestrious and vehicles safe and do away with those unsightly poles or gates and substitute more modern improvements. The railroad is paying a hand some revenue from the good people of Greensboro.

This is a growing city, what are you waiting for, what are you going to do this spring and summer to bring about the proper conveniences and improvements required from a city, that has increased in population and wishes to keep pace with Charlotte, Lynchburg and other prosperous cities in the south?

TRIAL UNDER DIFFICULTIES,

GOLDEN TRIAL WILL BE WATCHED BY CONTENDING ARMIES.

Deputies and Soldiers Stand Guard on one Side and Militia on the Other.

Frankfort, March 23—Today, set for the examination of the four republicans accused of the murder of Goebel, found two hostile armies on the ground. Beckham has two hundred soldiers and armed deputies. Taylor has two hundred and fifty regular militia. Sergeant Golden arrived in Frankfort just after midnight, coming from Lexington, in a carriage. He was taken in the court house, thus privately smuggled in for fear an attempt would be made to waylay him. It is learned this morning that he came to confess Itwas in the following manner. It was discovered sometime ago that he had accompanied Powers to Louisville on the morning of the assassination. Taking this clue, the detectives secured further information about him and he was notified through a third person that the facts were known, it is asserted that he then concluded to make a clean breast of his connection with the assassination and told his story, involving a number of persons in general, and Powers in particular.

CUNNING-BURGHERS

They are Fooling the British About Being So Anxious to Surrender.

London, March 23—A dispatch to the Times from Springfontein, dated yesterday says: "The present temper of the Free Staters in the territory occupied by the British should be accepted with caution. They have been astonished by the rapidity of our invasion but there is evidence that their attitude is somewhat fictitious. In view of the large proportion of inferior weapons which have been tendered for surrender, the impression presents itself that the Burghers are following the tactics of the Afridis under similar circumstances. This is more significant since we know how completely the Boers are armed with Mausers.

BLOODTHIRSTY WOMEN.

They Want to Have All British Officers Shot in Revenge.

London, March 23—It is reported from Lorenzo Marquez that the women of Pretoria insist that the British officers who have been taken prisoners of war there shall be shot. They declare that the British victories can only be avenged by the execution of red coats. They have made frequent demonstrations near the stronghold in which the captives are kept.

NOT ALMS BUT HELP.

In the Winston Sentinel of yesterday appears a card from the "Whatsoever Circle of the King's Daughters," from which we copy:

Since our organization in 1891 we have been engaged in general charity, going wherever we were convinced that there was real need, and relieving it as far as lay in our power. We have seen through it all that the great need of our poor is not alms, but to be shown how to help themselves, and on this account we have decided to change somewhat our line of work.

It is our purpose, at some time in the future (the length of time depending upon the success we meet with in raising the funds) to establish workrooms where women and children can be trained to various kinds of labor, and where a willing worker can find employment at any time.

And then a plan is outlined, by which it is hoped this may be accomplished. The plan is to establish work rooms in charge of a matron and there take in all kinds of work and instruct applicants how to do it, and then pay them for it. Further the card says:

How to give help without degrading the characters of the recipients and creating pauperism is a problem yet to be solved, but we believe the plan outlined above approaches very nearly the true solution.

This is very hopeful. The "King's Daughters" have certainly begun on the right principle and we hope their plan will prove practicable and successful. We were impressed by the same thought expressed in the statement by Porto Ricans a few days ago, prepared to be sent to Washington. We have heard a good deal about the suffering in that island and the help needed, and doubtless this is all true, but the Porto Ricans tell us that it is not charities so much as opportunity for self help that the poor people of the island need. Indiscriminate charity certainly tends to build up a class of paupers with neither self respect nor a desire to work. We would not for anything, say or attempt to say aught, that might lessen the inclination of any one towards charity—for God knows there's none too much of it, great and magnificent as is the work being done—but there is a serious danger here. It is not in giving too much, but not in giving wisely.

We all have heard many things about President McKinley, but it has been left for General Lew Wallace, statesman, warrior, poet, explorer and novelist, to see and say the most wonderful of all. The General has addressed an open letter to the republicans of his state in which he charges that President McKinley is attempting to make colonies of Puerto Rico and the Philippines to be governed by himself as a colonial empire. He declares that the president is negotiating for the islands of St. Thomas and St. Croix and that he is controlling congress through patronage.

Of all things! after the president's abject surrender on the Porto Rico tariff bill, to say that he is controlling congress!

The Philadelphia Record says that some of the department stores have started a movement to issue half cent pieces, claiming that they are needed in business, and they doubtless are, but we don't see why the merchants should want these coins because the rule is for the merchant always to take the half. But it shows that the country is coming down to a realization of the fact that the odds and ends are worth taking care of. Fifteen years ago in North Carolina if you offered to give a man coppers in change he would be insulted. Anything less than a nickel was not worth the trouble of putting in one's pocket. Now a brownie is as respectable as a dime. We are coming down to the value of little things in the south.

Yesterday the well known Publishing house of D. Appleton & Co., of New York, went into the hands of a receiver. A few months ago the long established house of Harper Brothers failed. The failure of publishing concerns of this kind carry a pang of regret. It is nearly like learning of the death of an old friend, to hear of the failure of one of these houses whose names one has been accustomed to see for so many years.

Tax the imagination greatly as one will and it is impossible to realize how any human creature can commit such a crime as that which occurred in Wake county yesterday.

We have seen that Oom Paul is a resourceful old gentleman, but we had no idea that he was up to such stuff as the Bloemfontein dispatch says he got off about the Russians capturing London. The old warrior must have been misquoted this time.

A HEINOUS CRIME IN WAKE

A Preacher Murders and Burns a Family of Six.

TWO ESCAPE TO TELL THE TALE.

A Negro Preacher at Midnight Steals Upon His Neighbors With an Axe —Slays Two—Burns Others.

Raleigh Morning Post

With the object of exterminating a family of eight to conceal his sins, Thomas Jones, a negro preacher, yesterday morning murdered Ella Jones, colored, and her fourteen-year-old daughter, and then set fire to the building in which they resided, burning alive four smaller children.

By remarkable presence of mind Laura Jones, an eight-year-old daughter, escaped from the burning building, taking with her Sid Jones, her three-year-old sister, thereby reducing the number of victims to six.

Among the dead is a three-weeks-old babe, whom Ella Jones, the mother, had publicly declared was the child of Thomas Jones. Pressed by the mother to contribute to her support, the so called preacher determined to wipe out the entire family. According to the little girl who escaped, Laura Jones, the "preacher" stealthily entered the house yesterday morning between 12 and 1 o'clock, and after crushing the heads of her mother and older sister with an axe set fire to the two beds in the room and fled.

Neighbors were awakened by the light of the fire and hurried to the scene of the tragedy. The little girl had fled to the home of Mr. Winters, where she told the story of the horriole crime. The faces of both children were covered with blood, which had spattered on them while the heartless brute was crushing the life out of the mother and sister by blows with an axe.

Jones was arrested at his home, half a mile distant, a few hours after the crime. He was in bed at the time and denied all knowledge of the crime. In his room was a pair of overalls which had fresh blood stains on them.

The escape of little Laura, the eight year-old daughter of Ella Jones, made possible the detection of the monstrous murderer, who would doubtless have concealed his crime by reason of his position as a preacher. The little girl told the story of the brutal murder of her mother and sister as soon as she made her escape with her tiny sister. She has repeated the story a half dozen times without variation.

At the coroner's inquest Laura was the first witness examined. Sid, her little sister, is too young to realize what had occurred and could not be examined.

Judge H. H. Roberts administered the oath to Laura and asked some preliminary questions. She knew the difference between right and wrong, and when asked where people go who tell lies, she said, "To the workhouse." She did not know her age. She stated that her mother was well and that she had gone to bed.

"Mr. Preacher," as she invariably referred to Parson Jones, "came to our house about the time the train blowed." The girl referred to the freight from Goldsboro, which passed Garner about midnight.

Laura then told how she was awakened by scream from her mother. She said she saw "Preacher" hit her mother in the head with an axe. The child's face was covered with blood, and in explanation of its condition she said that the blood spurted on her face when Tom Jones hit her sister with the axe. The sister was in the same bed with Laura and in a different bed from her mother. Sid's face was also besmeared with blood.

"I was asleep when he hit mamma the first time. She hollered, and that waked me up. Then he came to sister, who was in the bed with me, and hit her two times. He hit mother four times, but he didn't hit anybody else. Then he took a match and lit the bedtick on mother's bed, and then on our bed, and then went out. He put the axe under the bed. I took Sid off the bed and went to Miss Ella's(Winters). Sid was in the bed with sister."

The preacher was then brought before the coroner for identification by the little girl. He had not been seen by her.

"Point out the man who hit your mother and sister," said the coroner.

She looked intently about and, turning back, she pointed her finger at the prisoner. "That's him," she said Jones stood still, with head cast down. He made no response, and was finally carried away.

"Preacher" Jones, as he is known in the Garner Station section, decided to make a statement yesterday after the examination of all witnesses before the coroner and the magistrate had been completed. When questioned by Justice Roberts earlier in the day, he declined to say anything. To individuals, who also asked him questions, the parson's lips had been sealed.

Justice Johnson announced to the prisoner, as he was bringing to a close his hearing, that he could speak if he desired.

The prisoner nodded his willingness to explain his connection with the crime. He removed his hat and fixed his eyes on the ground while making his talk.

"Friends," said the murderer to those clustered around him, "I am sorry you think I did that. I am not guilty, and I don't feel so. It was a bad thing—a bad thing to do. If I had been there I would have felt it my duty to take the part of those in the house. I would have defended life. We can take life, but we can't give it. We should not take that which we cannot give.

"I went to my room last night and stayed there. Mr. Davis and the others found me there when they came there. I didn't go to Ella's last night. And this is the reason I call these people to witness. I tells them what's up, so that I feel I have some friends here.

"I give you my word that I don't feel guilty."

"Did you go to Ella Jones' house last night, did you hit her with an axe or did you fire the house?" asked Justice Johnson.

"In the sight of God, I didn't," said the parson, with some feeling.

"Have you anything else to say?"

"No."

"When were you at Ella's house last?"

"I went down there Sunday night. That was the last time."

"What did you talk about?"

"The same affair."

"What was said?"

"We were just talking about it. I came to see what was best to do."

"What did you promise her?"

"That I was willing to help her."

"How much?"

"Two dollars a month."

"Was she satisfied?"

"She had nothing to say. I think she was. No time was set to pay."

"Had you had any quarrel with Ella about this?"

"No; we never have had any cross word."

"How often have you been going there lately?"

"Every week or so."

"What did you go there for?"

"I went to help her out, and as a friend."

JOHN T. BRITT.

For Commissioner of Labor and Public Printer.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

There are few men in the state who for more than a quarter of a century have worked more faithfully and effectually for democracy and white supremacy than Col. John T. Britt, editor of the Oxford Public Ledger. The fight instituted in 1874 and unwieldingly prosecuted ever since was made against very great odds. At that time Granville county was one of the blackest negro strongholds in the state, having a negro majority of 600 to 800.

To overcome this majority and to place that grand old county on the white list was the labor that the Public Ledger applied itself to; and at the expense of actual boycotts and threats of personal violence and every conceivable meanness, the negro was marshalled to fight the democratic organ—all to poor effect beyond the cutting off from the paper some 300 subscribers within a few months.

To the Public Ledger more than to any other factor belongs the credit of a county redeemed from negro rule—for Granville county now stands boldly and defiantly where she rightly belongs—in the democratic ranks—thanks to the efforts of John T. Britt.

In recognition of, and as a token of democratic gratitude, his nomination and election to the office of commissioney of labor and public printer, would be, to put it mildly, a merited compliment, creditable alike to Col. Britt and the party he has served so well.

Apart from this consideration, he is a practical printer with life long experience, a thorough business man, deservedly popular among the editors of the state and the people alike.

Miss Helen Wrenn.

Miss Helen Wrenn, of Chicago, sang the now famous "Give Dewey a Welcome Home," by Lincoln, and was obliged to answer several recalls. Miss Wrenn's voice is a mezzo-soprano of wonderful clear and liquid quality, a combination rarely ever heard on the concert stage. Her numbers were 'A Dream," by Bartlett, "Since Thou Art Mine," by Couchois, and "Because," all given in her characteristic and sympathetic style.—Times-Herald, Chicago, Ill.

FREE BLOOD CURE.

Ulcers, cancers, eating sores, Painful swellings, effects of blood poison, persistent eruptions, that refuse to heal under ordinary treatment are quickly cured by B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm), the most wonderful blood purifier of the age, made especially to cure all terrible obstinate deep-seated blood and skin troubles. Is your blood thin? Are you pale? All run down? Have you eczema? Pimples? Blotches and bumps? Skin or scalp humors? Boils? Eruptions? Skin itches and swollen? Aching bones? Rheumatism? Catarrh? Then you need B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm), because it drains from the blood and entire system all the poisons and humors which cause all of these troubles, and the cause being removed, a permanen cure follows. B. B. B. thoroughly tested for thirty years, and thousands cured after doctors and patent medicines had failed. For sale by druggists and Howard Gardner in Greensboro at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta Ga.

No Better For Him.

There is a wealthy but very hard headed citizen of Detroit who has no hesitancy in telling this story on himself:

"If there's anything on earth grinds me it is to plunge into the social swim I'd far rather plunge into an ice cold bath. One of these here steel pen coats makes me want to go out and hide in the hayloft, and a standin collar puts me into a grouch for a week after I've worn it.

"But you know how women are. They'll stand right by you when livin is up hill work, skimp, hustle and save, but once they get money they want a show for it, and the bigger the show the better. Things sorter come my way in pine, and I cleaned up a neat little pile. I just grinned at carriages, horses, a coachman, a lot of servants a snookin round the house, receptions, theater parties and all that sort of thing.

"But when they rung in a genuine butler on me I had a warm conversation with mamma and the girls. It didn't do a mite of good. They talked me clean off my feet, and the butler came. I could have got away passably with the president of the United States, but that fellow, stiff backed, high headed, looking superiorlike and never smilin 'less it was to stab you, riled me awful. One day while sittin in the library I heard him tell one of the maids he was goin to resign. 'What for?' she asked. 'The last lady as called took me for the barbarian'—that's me.

"For years I dealt with raftsmen and lumbermen. I paid his bill for six weeks in the hospital, and his wages too. We keep no butler."—Detroit Free Press.

Charlotte Bronte Not Flattered.

An interesting anecdote of Charlotte Bronte is recalled by Mrs. Humphry Ward in her biographical introduction to "Villette." In 1851 the authoress, having refused repeated invitations to London, on the ground that having done no work she deserved no treat, finally consented to pay a short visit to the family of her friend and publisher, Mr. George Smith.

Thackeray was at this time at the height of his popularity in London, and Miss Bronte arrived in time to hear his second lecture on the English humorists.

When it was over, Thackeray, who had recognized the timid little woman sitting by Mrs. Smith, came down from the platform, and, shaking hands with Miss Bronte, asked her how she liked it. There are few persons who would not have been flattered by such an attention, but Miss Bronte, on the contrary, was almost offended by it, and when she introduces a similar incident in "Vilette" she comments on the restlessness and the lack of desirable self control on the part of the lecturer.

A Tonic Needless.

Mrs. Hohmboddle—John, dear, while you're down town I wish you'd just call and pay the milliner—$17 the bill is, but if you give her $10—

Mr. Hohmboddle—I'd rather settle it in full.

Mrs. Hohmboddle—Well, but I want you to bring me six yards of that lovely stuff from Matchem's—I'll get you the pattern—and that will take the other $7. Then I'll just make a memorandum of the trimmings, that will be about $3 more, and if you love me you know the kind of gloves I want. You've bought them often enough. Now, dear boy, you won't forget?

Mr. Hohmboddle—No, I'll remember; and, by the way, I'll take my tonic bottle along and get it renewed. I've felt quite run down of late.

Mrs. Hohmboddle—Your tonic? Why, that costs $1.50! It seems just like throwing money in the street to pay for medicine. Don't you think you could get along without it?—Judge.

Barnum's Excuse.

P. T. Barnum's propensity for practical joking began early to assert itself. Once a man was on trial in a local court for a small misdemeanor. Learning that he had no money to hire a lawyer, Barnum offered to conduct his defense. With great solemnity he made a lengthy plea in which he virtually accused his client of being guilty of half the crimes on the calendar, ending with a recommendation to the mercy of the court on the ground of unsound mind.

The man, though escaping with a merely nominal sentence, was furious at the trick that had been played on him. He was finally appeased by Barnum's explanation that he had prepared a defense for two different clients and had in his case delivered the wrong plea.—Maitland Leroy Osborne in National Magazine.

Dangerous Eggs.

A young clerk received instructions from the proprietor of a produce house in Front street some days ago to put into a case of eggs a card marked "Guaranteed."

The proprietor thought no more about the matter until later in the day, when he was called to the phone by the purchaser.

"I don't want these eggs," he said.

"What is the matter with them?" asked the proprietor.

"They are marked 'Quarantined' and are too suggestive of disease."

It developed later that the clerk had written "Quarantined" instead of "Guaranteed."—Memphis Scimitar.

A Neighborhood Humorist.

"Yesterday I met George as I got on the car and I said, 'Hello, George, how're you getting on?' Then he said, 'I ain't getting on, I'm getting off.'"

"Well?"

"Today I met him as I was getting off the car and I said, 'Hello, George, how're you getting on?' Then he said, 'I ain't getting on at all, I'm putting my mother-in-law on.'"—Chicago Record.

INDIGESTION

Cured by Johnson's Dyspepsia Cure

"I suffered over two years with Indigestion and Nervous Dyspepsia, unable to eat or sleep. I tried several physicians and different remedies, but they only helped me for a short time. A friend advised me to take Johnson's Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken three boxes, and am now feeling better than I have for two years. Have a good appetite, sleep well and have none of the symptoms of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, while I have gained ten pounds in weight within a couple of months. I am taking pleasure in recommending Johnson's Dyspepsia Cure wherever I can, and several of my friends are taking it with marked results."—L. A. Arnold, Cinn.

Copper Colored Splotches.

There is only one cure for Contagious Blood Poison—the disease which has completely baffled the doctors. They are totally unable to cure it, and direct their efforts toward bottling the poison up in the blood and concealing it from view. S. S. S. cures the disease positively and permanently by forcing out every trace of the taint.

I was afflicted with a terrible blood disease, which was in spots at first, but afterwards spread all over my body. These soon broke out into sores, and it is easy to imagine the suffering I endured. Before I became convinced that the doctors could do no good, I had spent a hundred dollars, which was really thrown away. I then tried various patent medicines, but they did not reach the disease. When I had finished my first bottle of S. S. S. I was greatly improved and was delighted with the result. The large red splotches on my chest began to grow paler and smaller, and before long disappeared entirely. I regained my lost weight, became stronger, and my appetite greatly improved. I was soon entirely well, and my skin as clear as a piece of glass.

WILL CLOSE THE WAR.

Plans of Roberts to Envelop the Boers Now Becoming Clear.

London, March 22—The great plan of Roberts and Kitchener is gradually becoming clear, and they will prepare it in the next three weeks. Then Buller with forty thousand men, will advance on Natal at the same time that Methuen, with twenty thousand, will advance toward Mafeking, entering the Transvaal from the west, while Roberts, being joined by all available forces aggregating a hundred thousand men and four hundred guns, will advance Northward from Bloemfontein. They will thus be in a position to envelop any force the Boers can possibly bring against him. It is believed that thus catching the Boers between three fires will bring the war to a speedy conclusion.

The ship's helm has a stern duty to perform.

Mrs. Calvin Zimmerman, Milesburg, Pa., says: "As a speedy cure for coughs, colds, croup and sore throat One Minute Cough Cure is unequalled. It is pleasant for children to take. I heartily recommend it to mothers." It is the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. It cures bronchitis, pneumonia, grippe and lung diseases. It will prevent consumption. WINE OF CARDUI

Woman Knows Woman.

ZURICH, KAN., Jan. 31.

I used Wine of Cardui for nervousness and weakness in the womb. After taking one bottle I was well again. I am a midwife and always recommend Wine of Cardui to my lady friends during pregnancy and after birth as a tonic. Every lady who takes it finds that it does even more than is claimed for it.

MRS. V. M. BOISVERT.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Nobody knows woman like woman. Men go to medical colleges, study books and listen to lectures. They learn indirectly of the diseases of women, but they are men and can never fully understand the ailments, the sufferings, the agonies of mothers, wives and sisters. A woman knows. Mrs. Boisvert knows. She has passed through the trials and tribulations of her sex. She has been near by when her sisters suffered. She has seen them relieved and cured with Wine of Cardui. Is it any wonder she recommends it? Is it any wonder that thousands of other women recommend it. They know. They have actual experience to prompt them. They spread the tidings from mouth to mouth, telling how Wine of Cardui helps young girls, helps the weak of all ages, helps and cures all womanly ills.

SCROFULA AND ITS AWFUL HORRORS
—CURED BY—
Johnston's Sarsaparilla
QUART BOTTLES.
A MOST WONDERFUL CURE.

A Grand Old Lady Gives Her Experience.

Mrs. Thankful Orilla Hurd lives in the beautiful village of Brighton, Livingston Co., Mich. This venerable and highly respected lady was born in the year 1812, the year of the great war, in Hebron, Washington Co., New York. She came to Michigan in 1840, the year of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too." All her faculties are excellently preserved, and possessing a very retentive memory, her mind is full of interesting reminiscences of her early life, of the early days of the State of Michigan and the interesting and remarkable people she has met, and the stirring events of which she was a witness. But nothing in her varied and manifold recollections are more marvelous and worthy of attention than are her experiences in the use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. Mrs. Hurd inherited a tendency and predisposition to scrofula, that terribly destructive blood taint which has cursed and is cursing the lives of thousands and marking thousands more as victims of the death angel. Transmitted from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family in one form or another. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in unsightly swellings in the neck or goitre, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane, it may be known as catarrh in the head, or developing in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption.

Speaking of her case, Mrs. Hurd says: "I was troubled for many years with a bad skin disease. My arms and limbs would break out in a mass of sores, discharging yellow matter. My neck began to swell and became very unsightly in appearance. My body was covered with scrofulous eruptions. My eyes were also greatly inflamed and weakened, and they pained me very much. My blood was in a very bad condition and my head ached severely at frequent intervals, and I had no appetite. I had sores also in my ears. I was in a miserable condition, I had tried every remedy that had been recommended, and doctor after doctor had failed. One of the best physicians in the state told me I must die of scrofulous consumption, as internal abcesses were beginning to form. I at length was told of Dr. Johnston, of Detroit, and his famous Sarsaparilla. I tried a bottle, more as an experiment than anything else, as I had no faith in it, and greatly to my agreeable surprise, I began to grow better. You can be sure I kept on taking it. I took a great many bottles. But I steadily improved until I became entirely well. All the sores healed up, all the bad symptoms disappeared. I gained perfect health, and I have never been troubled with scrofula since. Of course an old lady of 83 years is not a young woman, but I have had remarkably good health since then, and I firmly believe that JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA is the greatest blood purifier and the best medicine in the wide world, both for scrofula and as a spring medicine." This remarkably interesting old lady did not lok to be more than sixty, and she repeated several times, "I believe my life was saved by JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA."

Guilford College, March 23—The first game of baseball of the season in Greensboro will be played tomorrow (Saturday) by the Deaf and Dumb School team from Morganton and Guilford College team. Our team, since its return from Whitsett, which it de'eated by the score of 12 to 3, has been hard at work and some valuable changes have been made, so that a close game may be looked for. It is needless to say that the Deaf and Dumb boys know the game and will put up a fine exhibition of baseball. A large crowd is expected at the game from Greensboro and special invitations have been sent to the G. F. and State Normal Colleges. The game is to be called at 2 o'clock. Admission 25 cents.

The middle of the term has brought in a number of new students, while the work in the college is progressing and much improvement is noted in every department. The men in the literary societies are working with great zeal for the improvement prizes and the contestants are hard at work on their contest orations. The list of speakers from both of the societies is the best we have seen for some time. The Henry Clays have elected the following: Nuten Farlow, Frank Plummer, Emmet Shepherd, Elmer Leek, Carl Ashcraft and Rush King. The Websterians have elected Harry Daniels, Carson Hill, Walter Grantham, Homer Regan, Robert Willis and William McCulloch.

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.

It is certainly gratifying to the pub lic to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine, and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on C. E. Holton, druggist, and get a trial bottle free, Regular size 50 and $1. Every bottle guaranteed or price refunded.

Miss Klutiz Improved.

Correspondence of the Telegram.

Washington, March 23—Miss Mary Klutiz, daughter of Representative Klutiz, who has been quite ill from appendicitis, at the Johns Hopkins University Hospital at Baltimore, is reported to be much improved, and it is thought she will be able to sit up before long. Mr. Klutiz has been much worried over the condition of his daughter, but thinks that she is now out of danger. During his daughter's illness, Mr. Klutiz has spent much of his time in Baltimore, going over to that city on every possible occasion so as to be with her.

A THOUSAND TONGUES.

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphi, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"it soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the Universe." So will every one who tries Dr. Kings' New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c. and $1. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

The Best Medicine For Rheumatism.

"I think I would go crazy with pain were it not for Chamberlain's Pain Balm," writes Mr. W. H. Stapleton, Hermanie, Pa. "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for several years and have tried remedies without number, but Pain Balm is the best medicine I have got hold of." One application relieves the pain. SCIENCE OF DREAMS.

Results of a Series of Experiments by a German Professor.

Sleep is not "the brother of death, as the poets have said from Homer to Shelley; but, on the contrary, "sleep is the brother of life." So Professor Baschide asserts, who, in an article in the Uaturwissenschaftliche Rundschau, gives an accaunt of his "experiments upon 36 dreamers." His subjects were of various ages, from 1 year to 80 years.

In some cases his observations were continued during the whole night and in others for a great part of the night. He watched and recorded every change of physiognomy, every movement of the limbs and every speech or sound uttered by the unconscious dreamers. The depth of the sleep was also carefully measured, while from time to time the dreamers were awakened, but without their own perception that the awakening was intentional.

The professor obtained, as he writes at length, the following results: (1) We dream throughout the whole of our sleep, even in that deepest sleep which we imagine to be "dreamless." (2) There is an intimate connection between the depth of our sleep and the character of our dreams. The deeper the sleep the further back travels the retrospect into the past experiences of life and also the more remote are the contents of the dream from reality. In a light sleep, on the contrary, the subject of the dream relates to the experiences and excitements of the day and has a character of probability. (3) In a comatose sleep the professor thinks there may perhaps be no dreaming. (4) Persons who assert that they do not dream "are the victims of physical delusion." (5) Dreams of a moderate character remain longest in the memory. The wilder the dream the sooner it is forgotten.—London News.

THE STONE OF GRATITUDE.

An Old Roman Legend That Treats of the Topaz.

The topaz is called the stone of gratitude, and the old Roman books record the following legend from which the stone derives this attribute:

The blind Emperor Theodosius used to hang a brazen gong before his palace gates and sit beside it on certain days, hearing and putting to rights the grievances of any of his subjects. Those who wished for his advice and help had but to sound the gong, and immediately admission into the presence of Cæsar was obtained.

One day a great snake crept up to the gate and struck the brazen gong with her coils, and Theodosius gave orders that no one should molest the creature and bade her tell him her wish. The snake bent her crest lowly in homage and straightaway told the following tale:

Her nest was at the base of the gateway tower, and while she had gone to find food for her young brood a strange beast covered with sharp needles had invaded her home, killed the nestlings and now held possession of the little dwelling. Would Cæsar grant her justice?

The emperor gave orders for the porcupine to be slain and the mother to be restored to her desolate nest. Night fell, and the sleeping world had forgotten the emperor's kindly deed, but with the early dawn a great serpent glided into the palace, up the steps and into the royal chamber and laid upon each of the emperor's closed eyelids a gleaming topaz. When Emperor Theodosius awoke, he found he was no longer blind, for the mother snake had paid her debt of gratitude.—Exchange.

Doesn't Travel For Fun.

Far from being the great autocrat, the arbiter of things of magnitude, the president of a railway system, be it great or small, is a dealer in trifles, with a consideration for everything. Every accident, large or small; every occurrence by which the road is to lose a dollar or to make a dollar, comes to the notice of the president. The successful head of a railroad is the one who considers the details. He is the man who makes the profits, and he is the man who has to face the music at the directors' meeting.

When you see the bright, smooth running traveling palaces of the railway president trailing along behind the long string of passenger coaches, you can be safe in the opinion that the occupant has not the softest snap on earth. You can also rest assured that if he is a success in his sphere he is not traveling for fun.—Omaha World-Herald.

A Question In History.

Some strangers, apparently hailing from the far west, were looking at the statue of Robert Fulton, the inventor of the steamboat. Said one of them: "So this is the man who got up the steamboat, eh? Well, it only goes to show how a feller can be mistaken. Now, out in Punkin Ridge we always thought Si Jones fixed up the first steamboat ever run, in the year 1876. The whole county was out to see the Nancy Ann pass the Ridge, and every body about there said as how Si had surely made himself famous by buildin the first boat ever known to run."—Washington Times.

Too Businesslike.

Stella—Why on earth did Miss Pechis reject Mr. Boomer? He's making lots of money in the advertising business.

Bella—Yes, and he proposed to her by mail in this fashion: "I can place in a few good papers of guaranteed circulation at a minimum cost the following notice (pure reading, top column): 'Engaged—Miss Birdie Pechis to Mr. Howlett Boomer.' If this proposition meets your approval, kindly sign and return by first mail."—Philadelphia Press.

PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had kept her awake every night. She tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial Bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

'Tis well to bear in mind, forsooth,
When slanders round us fly,
It's easier to expound the truth
Than 'tis to nail a lie.

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT.

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Iowa, writing of his almost miraculous escape from death says: "Exposure after measles left me with serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung trouble." Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Blobbs—"Poor Bjones has dyspepsia so badly that he says his life isn't worth living." Slobbs—"But, Mrs. Bjones says he insists on calling in the doctor whenever he has an ache or a pain just the same."

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold," which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—E. S. Edwards, publisher of the Review, Wyatt, Ill. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Nell—"She lacks repose." Belle—"I guess you would too if you suffered from insomnia as she does."

A NIGHT OF TERROR.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham, of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from Pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and in further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Then April smiles and sheds a tear;
She's fickle. Dare we trust her?

J. I. Berry Logaston, Pa., writes: I am willing to take my oath that was cured of pneumonia entirely by the use of One Minute Cough Cure entirely after doctors failed. It also cured my children of whooping cough." Quickly relieves and cures coughs, colds, croup, grippe and throat and lung troubles. Children all like it. Mothers endorse it. Howard Gardner.

"The glorious spring is not for me,"
Said the poet of scanty means;
"For I've got to be writing verses,
you see,
For the Christmas magazines."

Rev. E. W. Slizer, W. Caton, N. Y., writes: "I had dyspepsia over twenty years, and tried doctors and medicines without benefit. I was persuaded to use 'Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and it helped me from the start. I believe it to be a panacea for all forms of indigestion." It digests what you eat. Howard Gardner.

Mrs. Harriet Evans, Hinsdale, Ill., writes: "I never fail to relieve my children of croup at once by using One Minute Cough Cure. I would not feel safe without it." Quickly cures coughs, colds, grippe and all throat and lung diseases." Howard Gardner.

Family Washing!

Massaging a shirt front with a red hot iron, or leaning over a tub and shaking an India rubber ire out of your spine, isn't a very pleasant experience, in either hot or cold weather. The twentieth century woman is fortunate in having our laundry to relieve her of this drudgery. We will soon be prepared to take family washing on a large scale. We are now prepared to take a limited amount of this work. If you are interested in having us do your entire family washing at reasonable prices, call on us. Our methods are right up to date, and our laundry, world's recommended by all who have tried it. Look out for the white wagons.

Not a Dead Man.

Various reports have been circulated about the condition of Ross Hummel, the young man who was wounded some time ago by a shot from a pistol in the hands of his father. A time or two he has been reported dead, but his physicians has given it out all along that he was improving and would get well. Only a day or two ago he was reported dead, in a newspaper in a neighboring town. Yesterday he got up, shaved himself and wrote a letter to his girl. Pretty good work for a corpse!

VISITED AN OSTRICH RANCH,

MR. R. W. BROOKS SAW SOME MAGNIFICENT BIRDS IN FLORIDA.

The Farm Near Jacksonville Has One Hundred on It, Some of Them 40 Years Old and Ten Feet High.

When Mr. R. W. Brooks was asked yesterday about what he saw during his Florida trip last week, he pitched into a fine description of the ostrich farm near Jacksonville as the most interesting thing he had seen, and it was most certainly interesting to hear him tell what he had learned of the magnificent oriental bird which furnishes the waving feminine headgear of civilization.

The ranch is situated in the suburbs of Jacksonville and is owned by the same company which owns a well known one in California. It has been recently established. On it are one hundred birds, ranging in age from six months to forty years. The average life of the plume producer is seventy years. When growing it grows about one foot per month and often reaches a height of ten feet. When the little ones are hatched they are placed in a pen to themselves, and after a while into another pen where they remain until they are five years old, and here they mate.

The king of the feathered creation is strictly a monogamist. Neither the male nor the female ever pairs but once. Until the birds mate the males and females are indistinguishable. Afterwards they grow to look quite different, and the male becomes the larger. Fourteen eggs are laid, one every other day, and they weigh three and a half pounds each. Then the setting begins. The old woman holds the nest in the day and the old man occupies it during the night. The nest has of course been made previously. This is done altogether by the male. He digs it in the sand exactly fourteen inches deep, and this depth never varies half an inch.

The weight of the ostrich varies from 250 to 400 pounds. The male has a dark body with white plumes, the plumes sometimes, however, have dark ones among them The body of the female is rather grayish. Plumes are plucked two or three times a year, and near the grounds the company keeps on sale some of the finest plumes, ranging in price from $2.50 to $10 each. The males are all named, some of them bearing such distinguished cognomens as Ingersoll, Napoleon, Roosevelt, etc. They thrive as well here in their pasture as on their native plains. The feeding is interesting. Food is prepared as if for cows.

The ostrich is a very powerful bird and a great fighter. He has but two toes, one long and one short, and these are his weapons of offense and defense. The keeper of this farm has harness made for them and often hitches them to vehicles. One large bird hitched to a buggy can carry two men at the rate of twelve miles an hour.

Besides ostriches this company has different kinds of rare birds, including a magnificent species of the pheasant.

Mr. Brooks thinks the ostrich farm the chief attraction about Jacksonville.

MARRIAGE AT HENDERSON

Mr. W. F Medearis and Miss Margaret Freeborn Wed at High Noon.

A most beautiful marriage ceremony took place yesterday at high noon in the Presbyterian church at Henderson. The contracting parties were Mr. William Fletcher Medearis and Miss Margaret Freeborn. The church was handsomely and tastefully decorated in cut flowers and palms. The church was full to overflowing. The groom was led to the altar on the arm of the best man, Mr. Robert Pickett, of High Point; the bride on the arm of her sister, Miss Emma. The bride wore a becoming suit of blue camel's hair and carried a magnificent boquet of Marechal-Neil roses. The maid of honor wore a handsome pink and green satin and carried an exquisite bouquet of pink roses. The happy couple left immediately for the home of the groom's brother, Mr. J. H. Medearis, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dean, of Winston, and Mrs. J. H. Medearis, of this place, where they were given a reception, a most bountiful repast being tendered them. Only a few intimate friends were invited. The presents were numerous and beautiful.

Relief Farther Than Ever.

Bulwuwayo, Monday, March 19—Plummer's advance guard under Col. Bodle, did not quite reach Pitsani. Finding the Boers occupying Pitsani, they formed a camp six miles south of Lobatsi. On the fifteenth the Boers attacked, driving Bodle back upon Lobatsi. Friday, after the artillery duel Plummer retired north under cover of darkness. Plummer apparently retired to Crocodile Point. The relief of Mafeking seems farther than ever

Regular rehearsal of the Easter Cantata, Christ the Victor, at Mrs. J. Norman Wills tonight at 8 o'clock. The time is short, and it is very important that all who have agreed to sing in the chorus attend this rehearsal.

The missionary society of Westminister was most charmingly entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. A. L. Rankin at her beautiful home on Asheboro street. Misses McIver, Rankin, Forbis and Murray served delicious refreshments in the dining room.

EMMA GRAY SOCIETY

Royally Entertained at Capt Ellington's Last Night.

The many guests who gathered in the spacious parlors of the Ellington home last evening found delightful entertainment indeed, awaiting them. The cordiality of the Emma Gray Society and the characteristic kindness of the hostess created throughout an atmosphere peculiarly genial and homelike to all who had come to share their hospitality.

The voluntary mission offering of the guests testified to an appreciation of the society's efforts, and must have been extremely gratifying to the treasurer.

The program was bright and interesting in every number. The ladies were most fortunate in the attractions secured, as the hearty applause of listeners testified.

Miss Goolsby's artistic playing was especially appreciated, as was also the rich melody of Miss Carraway's beautiful voice. The duett of Messrs Blount and Taylor, and the exquisite tenor of Mr. Bradley, were very much enjoyed, and Miss Lucie Stone, as usual, had to grant her delighted audience an encore.

The hero of the evening was the handsomest man in town, the venerable Mr. Sloan, father of the hostess and the beloved "Uncle Bob" of all Greensboro.

His entrance was the signal for an ovation which he richly deserved, as young and old crowded around him with good wishes and birth-day congratulations

Dainty refreshments were served in the beautiful decorated dining room, and at 10:30 the guests regretfully departed with graceful recollections of one one of the most successful social evenings of the year.

The Easter Cantata

The Easter Cantata, Christ the Victor, which is in course of preparation under the auspices of the Euterpe Club for presentation on Easter, is a most beautiful work—probably one of Dudley Buck's best, and all musicians know that Dudley Buck doesn't write uninteresting music. The rendition of an Eastercantata, so far as we know, has never been undertaken here before, but we have had other musical works which prove that we have fine choral material, able to sing any composition within the range of the average amateur singer. We should like very much to see a choral association organized here. It is a factor in the higher life of the people of all cities, and should be encouraged by everyone—musical or unmusical.

The Euterpe Club hopes that all who have promised to sing in the cantata will attend the rehearsals as regularly as possible, in order that the rendition may be such as the nobility of the work deserves. A notice of tonight's rehearsal appears elsewhere.

To Have a Furniture Factory.

Sanford seems to be coming along at a pretty lively clip. Besides the new cotton mill now in course of construction there, we are informed that there is good prospects for another in the near future. A furniture manufactory is also being established there. The company has already been organized and is to be known as the Sanford Furniture Manufacturing Company. Mr. A. L. McDonald, of Rockingham, is secretary and treasurer and will move to Sanford. Mr. J. B. Makepeace and Maj. John W. Scott, of Sanford, are among the stockholders. Messrs. Makepeace and McDonald were here today returning from High Point where they have been taking a view of the furniture factories there.

BROWN'S

Next to the Consumer

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity.

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.
